After Terrible European War Must Rest With Concert of Powers

SETTING AS A WORLD TRIBUNAL

International Law Must Be Respected By All

PUNISHMENT FOR NATIONS

Breaking Such Law Should Be Made Swift and Sure By the Others, "Stronger Than the Law Breaker," Senator Root Tells Pan-American Scientific Congress.

Washington, Dec. 29.—In the real restraint of nations by powerful international tribunals operating under a definite code of laws alone lies hope of the world peace, Elihu Root, former secretary of state and senator from New York, declared in an address here last night. He was speaking before a joint session of a subsection on international law from the Pan-American Scientific Congress and the American Society of International Law, of which he is president.

"The Christian church has been urging peace and good will among men for 19 centuries, and still there is war," said Mr. Root. "Concerts of Europe and alliances and ententes and skillful use of power all lead ultimately to war. Conciliation, sympathy, love of peace, human sympathy are all ineffective without institutions through which they can act. Only the possibility of establishing real restraint by law seems to remain to give effect to the undoubted will of the vast majority of mankind."

"When the war is ended, the civilized world will have to determine whether what we call international law is to be continued as a mere code of etiquette or is to be a real body of laws imposing obligations much more definite and inevitable than they have been heretofore. It must be one thing or the other."

"Vague and uncertain as the future must be, there is some reason to think that after the terrible experience through which civilization is passing there will be a tendency to strengthen rather than abandon the law of nations. Whatever the result may be, the world will have recovered a dreadful lesson of the evils of war. The sacrifice of millions of lives, millions homeless and in poverty, industry and commerce destroyed, overwhelming national debts—all will naturally produce a strong desire to do something that will prevent the same thing happening again."

"While the war has exhibited the inadequacy of international law, so far as it has yet developed, to curb these governmental policies which aim to extend power at all costs, it has shown even more clearly that little reliance can be placed upon unrestrained human nature, subject to specific temptations, to commit forcible aggression in the pursuit of power and wealth."

"How can restraints on laws be made more effective upon nations? It is not difficult to suggest some things which will tend in that direction. Laws, to be obeyed, must have sanctions behind them; that is to say, violations of them must be followed by punishment. That punishment must be caused by powers superior to the law breaker. Many states have grown so great that there is no power capable of imposing punishment upon them except the power of collective civilization. Any exercise of that power must be based upon public opinion—without such an opinion behind it, no punishment of any kind can be imposed for violation of international laws."

"Imperfect and conflicting as is the information upon which the conjecture is based, I think there is ground for the hope that from the horrors of violated law a stronger law will come. It was during the appalling crimes of the 30 years' war that Grotius wrote his De Jure Belli Ac Pacis and the science of international law took form and authority. The moral standards of the 30 years' war have returned again to Europe with the same dreadful and intolerable consequences. We may hope that there will be again a great new departure to escape destruction by subjecting the nations of the rule of law."

"During all the desperate struggles and emergencies of the great war, the conflicting nations from the beginning have been competing for the favorable judgment of the rest of the world with a solicitude which shows what a mighty power even now that opinion is. Nor can we doubt that this will be a different world when peace comes."

"Some of us believe that the hope of the world's progress lies in the spread and perfection of democratic self-government. It may be that out of the rock and welter of the great conflict may arise a general conclusion."

COMPULSORY SERVICE IN ARMY OF U. S.

MAY BE NECESSARY IN CARRYING OUT PLANS FOR ARMY INCREASE.

War Department Officials are Watching Great Britain's Conscription Policy Closely.

Washington, Dec. 29.—Great Britain's effort to carry on the war without resort to conscription eagerly is being watched in its every development by the American War Department, because, army officers say, the United Kingdom's situation touches at the root of conditions the United States faces in carrying out the Administration army increase program.

If Great Britain decides for conscription, high officials said, a long step will have been taken toward the time when universal service will be generally accepted in the United States as a national necessity. If Great Britain goes on with voluntary American officials feel that nothing short of a great military defeat would bring the United States to universal service.

Entirely aside from its part in the European war, officials believe, the question of whether service with the colors in time of need shall be a legally recognized duty of citizenship is of vital importance on this side of the Atlantic.

The virtually unanimous opinion of the commissioned personnel of the army and civil officials of the War Department is said to be that adequate preparedness only can be secured on the basis of universal military service.

While Secretary Garrison has made no public declaration of his opinion, Assistant Secretary Breckenridge, who frequently serves as his chief's spokesman, clearly has indicated in public utterances adherence to the belief that universal service is the only fair and democratic solution to the military problem of the nation. Signs are not lacking that the military committees of Congress will be acquainted formally with this view at the coming hearings, either by the Secretary himself or by an authorized spokesman. It is understood, however, that the department will urge that the vital thing is to put through at the present session a definite statement of military policy and create machinery for volunteers to begin with, but based ultimately on universal service.

Department officials are unwilling to see the fate of their policy, as expressed by the General Staff and Garrison, jeopardized by tying it up with the universal service issue, which may well be disposed of after the policy has been written.

The administration's continental army plan, it was learned authoritatively last night, is designed to operate with either the volunteer or the universal service system. It was framed with the Swiss system as a model, and lacks only one feature—that of compulsory service—to adapt that system to what army officers regard as American needs and conditions. Should events prove that a sufficient number of volunteers will not come forward or public sentiment undergo a change in favor of universal military service, a brief amendment in the law would set the continental army machinery in motion with little delay to establish the citizens army of the nation on that basis.

Regulations contemplated by the framers of the plan to put the continental army project into effect include the division of the country into military divisions corresponding generally to the present congressional districts. Each military district would be called upon for 333 recruits annually. In the event that

Greek Steamer Is Calling for Help in Atlantic Ocean; Carries 300 Passengers

New York, Dec. 29.—Summoned by a wireless call for help, the coast guard cutter Seneca is speeding to the aid of the Greek steamer Thessaloniki. With 300 passengers aboard, the Thessaloniki was in distress this morning about 205 miles east of New York and laboring toward this port at the rate of two miles an hour.

The Greek vessel is bound from Piraeus, Greece, to New York. Last Wednesday when 700 miles from the American coast she reported that her boiler and engine rooms had been partly flooded in a heavy storm. The steamship Stamboulis hurried to her relief but soon received word that the Thessaloniki would not require aid.

Yesterday morning the Thessaloniki reported when 300 miles east of Sandy Hook and in no danger.

Early today the Atlantic transport liner Mongolia, lying at anchor off Sandy Hook picked up a wireless message from the Thessaloniki saying that she was again in distress, giving her position and adding that she was "making two miles an hour toward New York."

The Seneca, which left the harbor at 3:20 a. m. will require nearly 20 hours to reach the distressed steamer. Meanwhile many wireless stations, after vainly trying to communicate with her sent the news to other steamers in the trans-Atlantic lane on the chance of finding one which may have picked up a later message from the Thessaloniki.

EVERYTHING IS ARRANGED

For Him and Seven Others to Meet Charges, According to President of Labor's Peace Council.—Organization is Said to Have Fostered Plans to Tie Up Many Factories.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
New York, Dec. 29.—Most of the eight men indicted by the Federal grand jury for conspiracy to cause strikes in war munition plants through Labor's National Peace Council, are here today or on their way to make their appearances before a United States commissioner and answer to the indictment. Frank S. Monnett, former attorney general of Ohio, one of the indicted men, left his home in Columbus bound for New York last night. He is said to have been chairman of the committee on resolutions of the Peace Council, but the details of the part he is alleged to have played in the conspiracy are withheld by federal officials.

Jacob C. Taylor, of Newark, N. J., president of the council, said today that everything was arranged for the officers of the council to answer to their indictment. He added that he had telegraphed to them to come to New York at once.

"I fully realize the gravity of the indictment of myself and my associates, but I am not worrying in the least about the outcome," said Mr. Taylor. "The organization has no reason at all to fear investigation. We welcome it. I have communicated with one of our counsel and our fight will begin against the indictments."

It is understood that Mr. Taylor's reference to officers of the council meant Henry B. Martin, its secretary and Herman Shulteis, of Washington, D. C. Representative Frank Buchanan of Chicago and H. Robert Fowler, formerly representative from Harrisburg, Ill., had not signified early today whether they would make their appearances before United States commissioners in their respective districts or in New York. There is a question whether Buchanan can claim immunity from arrest on the ground that he is a member of congress. The law states that congressmen "shall in all cases, except treason, felony, and breach of the peace, be privileged from arrest during attendance at the sessions of their respective houses."

Franz Rintelen, also indicted, as a prisoner in England, David Lamar who is alleged to have distributed a considerable portion of the $500,000 of German money said to have been devoted to the organization of Labor's Peace Council, and of strikes in war munition factories has given no intimation as to whether he intends voluntarily to appear to answer to the indictment. His home is near Pittsfield Mass.

It was learned today that these indictments do not conclude the work of government agents, but that a new grand jury will be sworn in next Tuesday to take up the work of bringing to justice the persons whom the government believe to be at the bottom of various alien conspiracies hatched in this part of the country since the beginning of the war. A government official said that yesterday's indictments were "just a good beginning" and that further developments may be expected within a few weeks. Labor's Peace Council was not identified with these other alleged plots it is said.

WANT PERMISSION TO SHIP MILK TO GERMAN INFANTS

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)

Washington, Dec. 29.—At the request of charitable organizations in the United States, Secretary Lansing has instructed Ambassadors Page and Sharp at London and Paris, respectively, to inquire whether the British and French governments will permit shipment of condensed milk to Germany and Austria for distribution to infants, under the direction of the American Red Cross. Statements that thousands of babies in Germany and Austria want the milk have been laid before the state department.

REPUBLICANS THINK MAYOR HURT PARTY

ONE DECLARES APPOINTMENT SHOWED EXECUTIVE'S CONTEMPT FOR ORGANIZATION.

His Son Becomes Member of Board of Control—Council Doesn't Confirm the Appointment.

Mayor Bigbee's unprecedented action in naming his son, Cecil A. Bigbee director of Public Safety, was the principal topic of conversation last night and there was hardly a gathering of men any place where the matter was not discussed.

Among republicans in particular was the subject handled from all angles and from statements made this morning the subject was handled without gloves. The action was condemned almost without exception.

"To me it appears that Mayor Bigbee had all he ever expected to get from the republican party," said one republican, "and that his regard for the party if he had any, was thrown to the winds to give his son the position. Those I have talked with admitted that they worked for Mayor Bigbee's re-election. These people now have a feeling of resentment that the Mayor showed such an utter contempt for these friends and the organization which made his election possible. It is doubtful if his son will profit to any great extent from this sort of an introduction into politics."

It has been suggested by some of those who do not entertain such a bitter feeling toward the mayor that he has certain plans for the renovation of the police department which he could not hope to have executed except by one over whom he had considerable influence.

Safety Director Bigbee, by reason of his office becomes a member of the board of control. Mayor Bigbee and Service Director W. C. Christian are the other members of the board. This organization awards all contracts for which bids are received by the city.

Union Station to be Built If the Subway Contract Is Signed by Pennsylvania

If the contract for the subway construction is signed by the Pennsylvania Railroad officials in its present form, Newark folks will enjoy the conveniences of a union passenger station. According to the present understanding, the union station will be located near the crossing of the B. & O. and Pennsylvania roads at a point almost directly south of the present B. & O. station.

This contract has been approved and signed by all B. & O. officials and has been approved by all the department heads of the Pennsylvania, though it will not be signed until after the meeting of the board of directors of the road late next month.

City Solicitor Ralph Norpell has spent nearly a week in Pittsburgh in an effort to hurry along the final signing of the contract. He urged tracts for which bids are received by the city.

It is not provided by law that the appointment shall be confirmed by the city council. It was stated this morning that the only way the city council could show its disapproval of the mayor's action was to amend the salary ordinance reducing the salary of the safety director. As far as is known this action has not been considered by the new council.

From his predecessor, Safety Director Bigbee inherits two problems of considerable importance. One is the police muddle and the other is the new fire trucks. Since the new trucks have been installed, firemen have worked almost daily on the apparatus, adding improvements or making repairs on parts that have not been satisfactory.

Baskets to receive shoes and coats of firemen when they change to their fire fighting apparel have been added, light switches have been changed several times, and other changes made.

SERBIAN TROOPS IN SCUTARI IN EXCELLENT TRIM.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Paris, Dec. 29.—"According to reliable information there are 75,000 Serbian troops at Scutari and Elbassan, Albania," says the Athens correspondent of the Hays agency. "They are in excellent trim, notwithstanding the difficulties encountered in their retreat. They hold strongly fortified positions against the advance of the Austro-Germans and Bulgarians and it is unlikely that they will be transferred to Saloniki."

DENIES REPORT AMBASSADORS' AGREEMENT.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Washington, Dec. 29.—Secretary Lansing today formally denied published statements that the real purpose of the visit to Europe of Colonel E. M. House was to settle differences between Ambassador Page at London on one hand and Ambassadors Gerard and Penfield at Berlin and Vienna on the other.

BLIZZARD IN CLEVELAND.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Cleveland, O., Dec. 29.—The blizzard, the worst in two years. A heavy snow is being driven by a 35 mile wind and probably will completely isolate the city by night and tie up all traffic.

The railroad officials to dispense with the formality of having the board approve the contract but was unsuccessful, officials declaring that it was against the settled policy of the company, though all department heads have approved the contract.

Pending the meeting of the board the contract has been left in the hands of the B. & O. officials at Baltimore.

City officials hoped to get the contract signed at once so the preliminaries could be disposed of before starting so there would be no delay in springing the actual construction work. There is property to be secured for the proposed improvement and it was hoped that this work could be cleared up during the winter months.

It is not anticipated that there will be any delay in the signing of the contract after the meeting of the Pennsylvania company's board.

Weather Causes Almost Complete Tie-Up of Traffic in Newark

HEAVY RAINFALL OF LAST NIGHT

Froze, and Trolley, Telephone and Telegraph Lines

PUT OUT OF COMMISSION

Repair Men Worked All Night—Worst Blizzard In Two Years In Cleveland—Communication In East Seriously Interrupted—Springfield Suffers Isolation This Morning.

Telephone and telegraph wires are down in various parts of Newark. Some of these wires may now or later come in contact with "live" electric wires. Everybody is warned to watch out for fallen wires and under no circumstances to touch a wire that has fallen. Call an electrician. Safety First.

The weather man for Wednesday offered the citizens of Newark an entirely different brand of weather and as a result of his effort, traffic in the city was at a standstill for several hours this morning.

Telegraphic, telephone and electric railway service was tied up. A heavy rainfall after midnight. Tuesday froze on the trolley wires and caused a great many telephone wires in the various parts of the city to go down. The Newark Telephone and the Bell Telephone company had their repairmen at work the afternoon of the night in a effort to the service was in a fairly good condition. The Bell company had a number of telephones reported out of order, owing to the heavy coating of ice.

The Ohio Electric company was unable to run any of their cars until shortly before noon, owing to trouble to their high tension wire at Hebron. The city railway company ran a car over the city the greater part of the night, and this morning keep the wires free from ice.

A gang of workmen started with the car at 2 a. m. and the round trip from the power plant to east Newark and around the loop at the park was completed at 5 a. m. The men were on the top of the car knocking the ice from the wires and progress was very slow.

Residents of West Church street and other parts of the city along the car route, were awakened early by what the first thought was a fire, but it proved to be only the electrical display of the trolley wires.

The heavy snow fall of early Tuesday morning was turned into a deluge of mud and water and pedestrians found the streets in a very disagreeable condition when they ventured forth this morning.

The usual news efficiency of the Associated Press wire in the Advocate office was retarded for several hours, owing to one of the direct wires from Newark to Columbus being grounded. The Advocate, however, was able through its other telegraphic communication to continue its Associated Press Service.

The Granville commuters to Newark were delayed several hours on account of several telephone poles being down across the car tracks. A number of telephone poles were reported down just north of the Cedar Hill cemetery.

Pedestrians complained of the inactivity of the service department this morning in not cleaning the intersections of the streets in the downtown sections. A scraper was on the job cleaning the gutters, but no effort was made to take care of the slush at the intersections.

The Baltimore & Ohio railroad was seriously affected by the storm in the northern part of the state. The Chicago and North Western No. 18 arrived in Newark Wednesday morning 4-12 hours late. A great many poles and wires were reported down early in the morning, but a gang of workmen after working all morning reported traffic again open.

The Pennsylvania railroad was more fortunate with their trains and telegraph service as the storm's fury was mostly spent in the northern part of the state and which section does not effect this division out of Newark.

The Hudson avenue and Granville street jitney service were being operated with much difficulty, but the busses were running on scheduled time.

The Postal Telegraph company's traffic was seriously affected by the storm in the vicinity of Union Station road. Thirteen telephone poles were down early Wednesday morning and it was necessary for the T. & O. C. railway company to cut the wires before they could run their trains.

INDICTMENT

RETURNED AGAINST WARDEN OF SING SING PRISON CHARGES IMMORALITY

Other Charges Consist of Perjury and Failure to Keep Proper Discipline Among Prisoners

White Plains, N. Y., Dec. 29.—Two indictments yesterday were returned against Thomas Mott Osborne, warden of Sing Sing, by the Westchester County grand jury, which has been investigating conditions in the prison.

One indictment charges the warden with having committed perjury in his testimony at the recent inquiry conducted by Dr. Rudolph Steadling of the state prison commission.

One count in the second indictment charges that Osborne absented himself from the prison. Another embraces allegations that the warden failed to perform the duties imposed upon him; that he failed to prevent felonies in the prison and that he failed to report immorality among the prisoners.

Another charges the warden with permitting convicts to go into the main house to visit Charles Becker. A fourth charges Osborne with failure to maintain proper discipline and a fifth alleges that he permitted fights between convicts. Another count contains allegations against the moral character of the warden in his relations with prisoners.

GOVERNOR LOATH TO BELIEVE THE PERSONAL CHARGES.

Albany, N. Y., Dec. 29.—Thomas Mott Osborne, millionaire warden of Sing Sing prison, will be removed from office as soon as a successor can be named formally under the law. This action probably will be taken today, John B. Riley, state superintendent of prisons, said, after he had learned of the specifications in the indictment returned against the Sing Sing executive by the Westchester county grand jury.

"No man who is under indictment should continue in the office of warden," Superintendent Riley said, "and as soon as a successor can be found he will be appointed."

Governor Whitman's comment was limited to a brief typewritten statement, which read:

"From the first I have believed the charges against Mr. Osborne's personal character entirely unfounded and I am astonished at the action of the grand jury. But, of course, I know nothing whatever of the evidence which was presented to that body."

Osborne was appointed warden of Sing Sing in the latter part of November, 1914, near the close of Gov. Glynn's administration. A short time previously he gained considerable publicity by spending a week at Auburn prison, where as a part of his study of penology he lived the life of a convict and was known as "Tom Brown."

consciousness that it is the people who are to be considered, their rights and liberties to govern and be governed for themselves, rather than rulers' ambitions and policies of aggrandizement. If that be so, our hopes will be realized, for autocracy can protect itself by arbitrary power, but the people can protect themselves only by the rule of law."

John Bassett Moore, former counselor of the state department; Geo. C. Wilson, professor of international law at Harvard University; Dr. Norman Dwight Harris of Northwestern University, and other authorities on international law, addressed the joint meeting.

During a day session, Dr. Jacob Gould Schurman of Cornell University, predicted the settlement of future controversies by arbitration. Force as a moral means of settling controversies had failed, he said.

Dr. Charles W. Eliot, president emeritus of Harvard, was to have addressed the division of education of the conference, but did not arrive in time and his paper was read. Dr. Eliot took the position that too little attention was paid to the training of the senses and thought agriculture should have a prominent place in the country schools.

Resolutions calling upon Congress for an appropriation with which to construct a national archives building in this city were adopted at a joint meeting of the American Historical Association, the American Economic Association, the American Political Science Association and other national societies.

It was pointed out that the government was not only far behind other foreign countries in the matter of caring for its records, but of many American states and private corporations as well.

Advocates of the administration plan say that the 400,000 men with the colors and 400,000 reserve proposed to be produced within six years will not constitute a force adequate to the needs of the nation, and they do not contend that the

TRAINING FOR COLLEGE YOUTH ADVOCATED BY FORMER PRESIDENT TAFT.

This Would Give Nation a Nucleus From Which to Draw Officers if Needed.

New York, Dec. 29.—Former President William H. Taft, who spoke on "College Athletics" at the annual conference of the National Collegiate Athletic Association, in this city, last night declared himself in favor of military drills for the college students during the first two years of his undergraduate life.

In reply to questions asked at the close of his address regarding military preparedness, he expressed the opinion that college students would prove excellent material from which to develop army officers, and that officers were the principal need of the army today. Mr. Taft said all the nations of the world found it difficult to meet the demand for officers. Even the German army's lack of officers was one of its greatest drawbacks.

He pointed out that while West Point was doing excellent work in this direction, there was still room for the development of a large number of graduates of the West Point type each year. While the general impression appeared to be that the United States military academy annually turned out enough officers for the needs of the army, Mr. Taft said this was not entirely correct. The addition of several buildings to the present group would almost double the capacity of the academy, while giving appointive power to the Secretary of War would fill vacancies in the corps where candidates appointed by Congressmen failed to pass the examinations and other appointments were not immediately made.

Mr. Taft stated also that in his opinion military drills in the colleges would have a marked effect upon the marriage and general appearance of the undergraduates. It would eliminate the slouch and stoop of the average student, which gave him the appearance of a man of 30 or more, in addition to unbuilding his physical condition and bearing.

In his address on athletics Mr. Taft said in part:

"Forty years ago college athletes were simpler. The skill of the athlete has greatly increased. They have approximated the skill of professionals in the same field, and the temptations to professionalism, temporary and permanent, have become stronger and stronger. The rules of eligibility, therefore, have become more important in order to keep the taint of professionalism out of college athletics."

He said that another abuse was the practice of college alumni influencing students at preparatory schools, who shone in athletics, to enter their respective colleges, promising support to them in their college course.

"When one looks at one transaction in which a man interested in college finds a likely young athlete in a preparatory school, struggling for his college education, and tells him 'if you will go to my alma mater I will pay your way through college,' the matter may seem innocent. It is only when one considers how freedom to do such a thing with a great amount of wealth that an alumni can command, must lead to bidding for likely young athletes and to a real professionalism more vicious than any that has been suggested, because carried almost down to the childhood of the nation."

"It seems to me, too, that the colleges may well be cautious in reference to the granting of scholarships to the athletes because they are athletes."

"There is a feeling on the part of men connected with colleges that athletic success increases the matriculation of the college. Perhaps it does. I think statistics might show a different story—at least, I don't think it has been demonstrated that the influence of college victories has in the long run tended to attract students. But even if it has, it is not by any means certain that increased matriculation is necessarily a good thing for an institution."

"I think we have overdone competition in seeking athletes, and I hope we are arriving at a time of reaction when the tendency will be to limit the number of students admitted to a college, so that the class shall not exceed the number for which the existing equipment and teaching forces are adequate."

APPEAL MADE BY PRESIDENT FOR POLISH RELIEF

JANUARY FIRST SET ASIDE AS DAY TO MAKE CONTRIBUTIONS.

Gifts of Clothing and Cash May Be Sent to Headquarters in New York.

President Wilson issued a proclamation on December 18th, setting Saturday, January 1st, 1917 as a special day upon which the people of the United States may make such contributions as they feel disposed for the aid of the stricken people of Poland. The President cites the resolution received by him from the Senate of the United States which sets forth briefly the needs of the Polish population. The resolution is as follows:

"Whereas, the attention of the people of the United States has been from time to time directed to the appalling situation in Poland, where practically the entire population today is homeless, and where men, women and children are perishing by the thousands for lack of shelter, clothing and food; and

"Whereas, the people of the United States have demonstrated their sympathy for the suffering people on all sides in the great European war by their splendid and successful charitable work in Belgium, Serbia, and other places; and feeling that the American people would quickly respond to an appeal for help in Poland, once the tragedy of the situation there is brought home to them. Be it

"Resolved, That, appreciating the suffering of the stricken people, it is suggested that the President of the United States set aside a day in the forthcoming holiday season upon which day a direct appeal to the sympathy of all American citizens shall be made, and an opportunity shall be given all to contribute to a much needed holiday fund for relief in Poland."

No greater need by an entire nation has ever existed as now prevails in Poland.

Sixteen million of totally destitute people, the greater part of them women and children, are facing starvation and the grim possibility of death by freezing.

The winters of Poland are always looked forward to with dread, even by those insured to their hardships, but the present winter, it is feared, will cause suffering the like of which has never been known in the history of mankind. Widows and children—hundreds of thousands are wandering in the wastes of Poland. Descriptions have reached this country of their emaciated forms, huddling in the cannon ruts and starving processions of the old and the sick, of feeble children and infants, stopping every now and then to bury one who had given up the struggle.

Yet we, in America, are preparing to enjoy the season of Peace on Earth and Good Will toward Men.

The American Polish Relief Commission of 12 and 14 East Forty-sixth street, New York City, propose to forward money, food and clothing to these suffering people. The commission numbers among its members men of nation wide repute, a few of whom are given below:

Dr. John Greer Hibben, president Princeton University.

Dr. Nicholas Murray Butler, president Columbia University.

Hon. Theo. E. Burton of Ohio.

Hon. J. Patten of Chicago.

Governor Arthur S. Capper of Kansas.

Ex. A. Valkenburg, Philadelphia North American, and others.

Gifts of food and clothing may be sent to the Commission's headquarters in New York City. Cash contributions should be made payable to the Guaranty Trust Co., treasurer, New York City.

The township trustees held their regular weekly meeting Tuesday afternoon at the township hall, 53 South Second street, Mr. Fry, because of illness was unable to be present.

Messrs. Wm. Holler, Mac Mossman having been re-elected at the November election will succeed themselves next Saturday, Jan. 1.

A fine dinner at the Ideal Exchange will be a feature of the day.

PRESIDENT ATE CAKE DESIGNED BY HIS BRIDE

Executive Celebrates His Fifty-ninth Birthday Yesterday at Hot Springs, Virginia.

Hot Springs, Va., December 29.—Wilson worked several hours, read hundreds of telegrams of congratulations from people all over the country, took a long automobile drive over snow-covered mountain roads, and in the evening had a quiet birthday dinner with his wife in their suite.

A lengthy letter from Secretary Lansing reached the President during the day. It is understood to have given a review of international affairs, discussing particularly the situation growing out of Austria's methods of submarine warfare.

Among the messages of congratulations was one signed by all the members of the cabinet. Many of the others are coupled with felicitations, expressions of thanks to the President for keeping the country at peace and hope for his re-election.

The feature of the birthday dinner was a cake designed by Mrs. Wilson herself. It was an almond sponge cake, decorated with candy roses and tulips, and bearing in white icing the inscription: "Many happy returns, W. W."

CONGRATULATIONS ARE POURING IN.

Hot Springs, Va., Dec. 29.—Belated telegrams congratulating President Wilson on his fifty-ninth birthday continued today to pour into Hot Springs. More than 200 had been received up to noon. Approximately 500 came yesterday. The President and Mrs. Wilson spent the forenoon today reading and replying to them.

After a morning rain the sun shone in the afternoon and the president and his wife expected to play golf or to motor. Another long letter from Secretary Lansing presumably reviewing the international situation was received today by the president.

XMAS EXERCISES BAPTIST CHAPEL ON PATASKALA ST.

The Christmas exercises held by the Baptist Chapel, on Tuesday evening were well attended. The children and the young people of the Sunday school, who took part in the interesting exercises, consisting of declamations, essays, singing, etc., carried out the parts assigned them in a highly creditable manner, which elicited the commendation of all who were present. After finishing the program of exercises, Mr. J. R. Davies, on behalf of the Sunday school, presented Miss Oakleaf, the efficient and faithful organist, with a sterling silver spoon, as a mark of appreciation of her faithfulness and interest in the school. Mr. Davies' remarks were very appropriate, and although Miss Oakleaf was taken completely by surprise she managed to respond in a few well selected words, in which she thanked the donors for their token, of appreciation. Mr. Davies also made a few remarks in which he showed the growth of the Sunday school, and the great good it was accomplishing.

Mr. James Crisswell, the superintendent of the school, made a short address, in which he urged the members to assist in building up the school and broadening the good work it has been carrying on for a number of years.

Mr. Crisswell was followed by H. A. Cross, one of the teachers in the Sunday school, who delivered a most interesting address, and one that will have a good effect. He told of the great work that had been carried on in the past and predicted still greater results in the future.

At the conclusion of the speech making a liberal treat was given each scholar. The members and friends of the chapel consider this as being one of the best entertainments ever given by the school of like nature.

BOWSER TO TRY FOR BOUT WITH WILFRED BARRET

Following the receipt of the challenge from Wilfred Barret, Detroit wrestler who claims the lightweight championship of France, Paul Bowser, local wrestler immediately arranged to communicate with the Detroit man in an effort to arrange a bout for the near future. Success or failure of these efforts depends largely on Barret's terms. It is impossible to give him any big proposition because the game here is in the course of revival and as yet it has not been a phenomenal financial success. A wrestler with Barret's reputation probably would demand a big purse to come here. Bowser knows Barret by reputation as a wrestler of ability and realizes that if a meeting is arranged he will be called upon to put forth his best efforts to wrest victory from the Detroitite.

GRIFFITHS BEST IN 12-ROUND BOUT WITH J. BRITTON

Akron, Dec. 29.—Jack Britton's experience and ring generalship were not sufficient to counteract Johnny Griffith's youth and recuperative powers and the Akron youth last night in 12 furious rounds, slightly outpointed the Chicago veteran in their third match. Britton had the better of the early rounds, which were not even, but towards the close he tired and Griffiths set the pace in the last three rounds, which he won by a large margin, giving him the edge on the fight.

THOS. SHEVLIN DIED TODAY OF PNEUMONIA

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Minneapolis, Dec. 29.—Thomas L. Shevlin of Minneapolis, millionaire lumber man and Yale football coach died at his home here this morning of pneumonia. Mr. Shevlin contracted a cold while training the Yale football squad last fall.
Dr. B. W. Sippy of Chicago, a specialist, made a sensational dash from Chicago to St. Paul in eight hours on a special train to reach the bedside of the sick man.

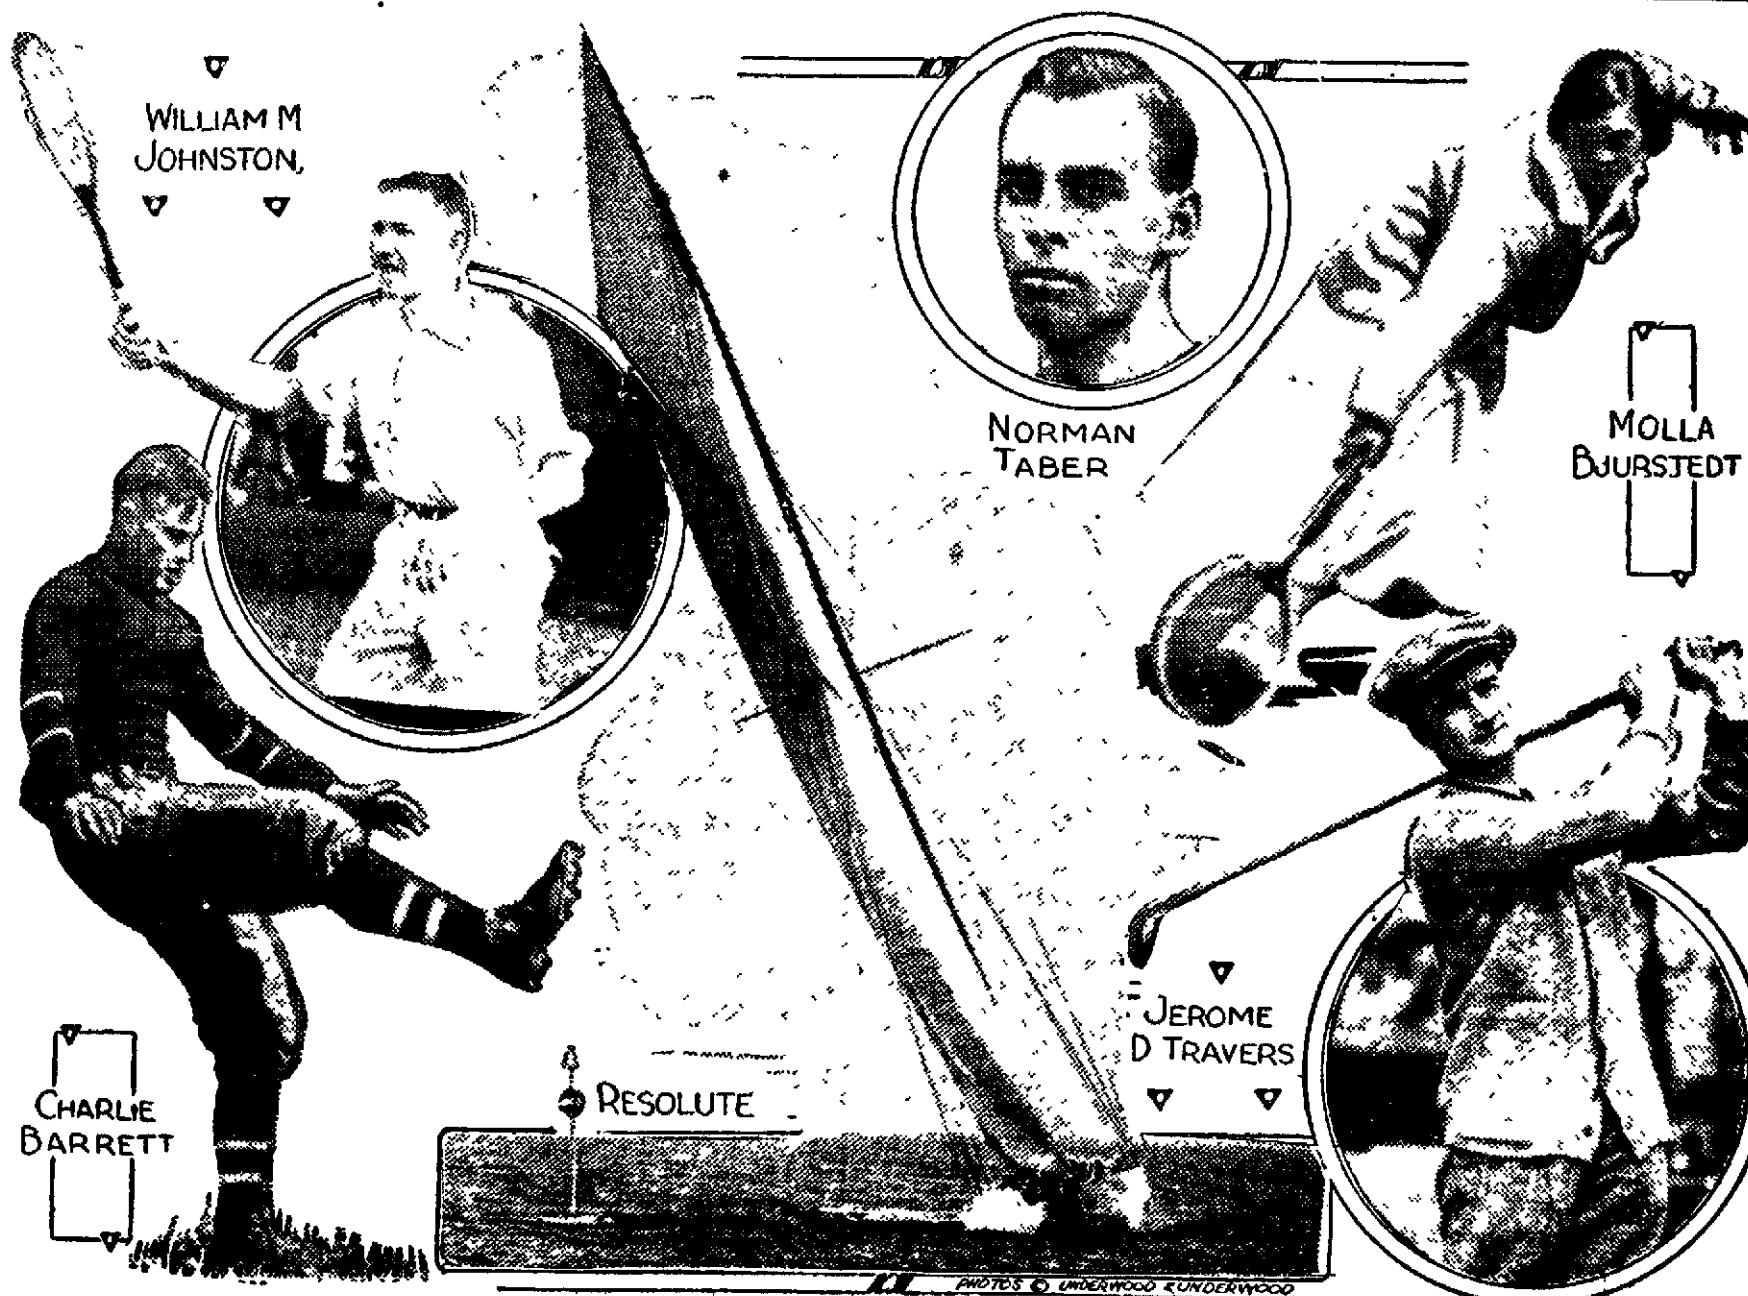

"Mr. Shevlin has a chance to recover," said H. C. Clark, business partner of Shevlin, last night. "The illness assumed serious proportions last Thursday and since then Shevlin has been declining."

After leaving Yale Shevlin went to California to rest. He returned to his home in Minneapolis last Wednesday. The following day pneumonia developed.
Shevlin struggled hard last fall to whip the Yale aggregation into shape to meet Harvard and the subsequent overwhelming defeat preyed on his mind. During the training Shevlin lost 12 pounds. The rest in California improved him, but he was anxious to return to Minneapolis to supervise certain business matters and therefore cut his vacation short.

SEASON OF 1915 PRODUCED MANY GREAT PERFORMERS IN AMATEUR ATHLETICS

Champions in 1915 amateur athletics.

The season of 1915 produced many great athletes in amateur ranks. Among them were William M. Johnston, who carried off first honors in tennis singles; Molla Bjurstedt, the Norwegian girl who came to this country and won the women's championship in tennis; Norman Taber, who made a new world's record in the mile; William Travers, who carried off first honors in amateur golf; and Charlie Barrett, the best player on the one great college football eleven in the east which went undefeated through the season. In the yachting world, the Resolute carried off practically all the honors, winning eleven races to three for the Vanitie.

ACTRESS NEAR DEATH, RESCUED BY U. S. CREW

During the taking of a scene recently, Helen Holmes, the famous motion picture star was rescued from drowning by a boat crew from the U. S. S. Hancock. Miss Holmes had gone over the side of a speed launch, according to the director's instruction, the camera grinding away meantime.
But she did not come up to the surface. As she is an expert swimmer, rescuers hesitated, but not a boat crew from the torpedo destroyer Hancock which was standing by. The sailors dashed to the scene, and overboard went four of them, and it was lucky for Miss Holmes, too.

She was found entangled in a mass of ropes rendering her efforts to rise to the surface absolutely futile. And then the entire scene had to be taken over again, but nobody objected, when they saw how cheerily Miss Holmes was, after her exciting experience.
"And then," Miss Holmes remarked, "young girls who have everything in the world, write to me and ask me how to become a motion picture star. It's funny, isn't it?" Any one admitted it was.
However, Miss Holmes takes the letters from her girl admirers very seriously and does everything in her power to assist if she feels the inquirer is really intent on working hard and accomplishing something by dint of hard work.

"It would be awfully selfish of me," she told Director McGowan one day, "if I did not help these girls."

Some Authors and Their Names.

There are authors who make the most of their names, and there are others who don't. When W. W. Jacobs was commencing his literary career and hoping to "make a name" why did he not make the best of the one he got at the font? What a splash he could have made with William Wy-mark Jacobs!

It is almost as bad as Gilbert's neglected name, which was Schwenck. But perhaps that was too near "swank" for a modest man. Rutherford Crockett would have served the author of "The Stick Minister" well, but he was content with S. R. Sir Arthur Pinero's second name is Wing.

Charles Hocking's is Kitto, Jerome K. Jerome's is Klappa, and Gilbert Chesterton's "K" stands for Keith. Charles Dickens was christened Charles John Huffham.

It is a remarkable fact that nearly all the greater novelists are simply styled—Henry Fielding, Jane Austen, Walter Scott, Charles Reade, George Meredith, Thomas Hardy. William Makepeace Thackeray ignored his second name—St. James' Gazette.

18 POUNDS OF BLOOD

is the average quantity in a healthy adult, but it is the quality of the blood that determines our strength to resist sickness. With weak blood we find cold hands and chilly feet; in children an aversion to study, and in adults rheumatic tendencies.

In changing seasons get abundant fresh air and take a spoonful of Scott's Emulsion after meals, because Scott's Emulsion is a rich blood-food that will increase both quantity and quality of the blood while it warms the body and helps carry off the impurities.

When multitudes of people are today taking Scott's Emulsion to avert winter sickness, and are giving it to their children, it is careless to neglect its benefits. Look out for substitutes.

Strong Even In Death.

A few trees almost destitute of branches or bark grows abundantly in the Caucasus to a height of from fifty to sixty feet and a diameter of a little over two feet. It grows slowly, but its timber is almost indestructible except by fire. It is considered superior in durability, appearance and toughness to mahogany, which it otherwise somewhat resembles. In some large forests of this tree it is very difficult to distinguish the live trees from the dead ones, the latter being very numerous and said to stand for 100 years after death without exhibiting decay.

Granville

(Special to Advocate.)

Granville, Dec. 29.—The heavy snow fall of Monday night, followed by rain and sleet, tied up traffic on the electric road between Newark and Granville this morning. Broken wires and a tree across the track in Centerville street, delayed cars for several hours, and passengers for Columbus boarded the 7:55 T. and O. C. train.

The King's Daughters, the only local organization which has not taken the holiday recess, held their regular meeting in their rooms, Monday evening, which was of interest to those attending. Devotional exercises and matters of business were the only program, after which refreshments were served and a social time enjoyed. There were no hostesses, so the executive committee served a "jittery lunch," which was greatly enjoyed.

The W. C. T. U. will hold a sale on Friday afternoon in The King's Daughters' rooms in Linden Flats. Notice: contributions to the sale will be received in the rooms at 1 o'clock. Cakes, pies, salads, baked meats, bread, biscuit, cookies, etc., may be found at this sale. Everybody come.

The lecture room of the Presbyterian church was crowded to the doors last evening, the occasion being the annual Sunday school entertainment and treat. The delightful program presented was the work of the primary department, and each member received its meed of applause. A beautifully decorated Christmas tree contained offerings for all the children who thoroughly enjoyed this second edition of Christmas cheer.

Prof. C. D. Coons is attending the American Association meetings in Columbus this week. He reports a splendid time at the Zanesville-Denison club meeting which he attended on Monday evening. This is the first meeting of the Zanesville Denison club and the large number present at the organization of a permanent club showed great enthusiasm and a fine loyalty to the institution. Professor Coons was the only speaker. President Chamberlain, who was to have attended, was prevented from keeping the engagement by reason of his attendance at Dr. Doane's funeral in Cincinnati.

The annual dinner and election of officers will be held by the Spencer Bible class in the Baptist church parlors on Friday evening at half past five o'clock. All members of this class are urged to be present promptly on the hour named.

Dr. H. R. Kneidel, principal of Doane academy, was in Cincinnati, Monday, attending the funeral services of Dr. W. H. Doane in Mt. Auburn.

Miss Ruth McKibben, after a pleasant week at the home of her father, Dr. G. F. McKibben in West Elm street, returned today to Indianapolis.

Mr. Karl H. Eshman and Mr. Kenneth Ullman have gone to the national convention of Simfonia, the musical fraternity, held in Cincinnati.

Mr. and Mrs. Warren Morris and Mr. Bruce Ogden of Cleveland have been visiting their mother, Mrs. Clara M. Ogden in her charming home in Summit street.

Music

After taking a year's rest from the concert stage, the young violinist, Mischa Elman, is now playing throughout the country to capacity houses. It is a question whether any violinist in the present generation has been received with such wild enthusiasm as this Russian wonder artist. Recently in Detroit, 500 seats had to be put upon the stage to accommodate the audience and on two occasions when Elman played in Philadelphia, the vast Academy of Music was completely sold out and extra seats had to be arranged in the orchestra pit.

The Philadelphia Public Ledger of November 6th said: "Elman played with a soul on fire and swept the vast audience before him. The exquisite, silky, smoothness and sweetness of tone fell upon the ear like a caress. From start to finish his numbers were pure, unspeakable delight. It was fluid electricity. He was on his mettle every minute and he called on his big voiced Stradivarius for all the tone there was in it."

The Philadelphia North American of same date said: "Elman makes his violin speak in most incisive tones and again in tones of the most beautiful and plaintive simplicity. His playing is witchery—nothing could be desired after he finished—Elman is indeed the high light in the violin world."

Mischa Elman with Margaret Parry, soprano, premier soprano, gave the fourth Quality Concert, January 11th, in Memorial Hall in that city.

Every Day Etiquette

"Is it proper to speak to a young man on the street whom I met at a private party, but to whom I was not introduced?" inquired Jessie.

"Since you met this boy at a private party you may speak if you wish; if at a public affair you should not recognize him," replied her sister.

"I cannot attend an afternoon tea I have been invited to. What regrets should I send?" asked Marie.

"Your visiting card, mailed so as to arrive on the day of the tea, or sent by a messenger or some friend who attends, is all the regrets required for an afternoon tea," advised her aunt.

In Milady's Boudoir

By Gwen Sears

If your lashes are thin and scraggly, or do not grow properly, your eyes will become inflamed, for your eyelashes are protection for your eyes. You cannot have a luxurious fringe of eyelashes if you do not help your eyes and eyelids in a healthy condition. If your eyes are weak and strained the lashes are generally irregular, with tiny bald spots here and there.

So the first thing you must do to acquire the desirable fringe is to keep your eyes as free from strain as possible. Just before you retire at night and again in the morning, bathe the eyes in boric acid solution, using an eyecup. For inflamed lids and short, scant lashes, yellowish and sore, use a little of the best vaseline is one of the best applications. Melt a little of the vaseline stick around the point of which a tiny wad of cotton is wrapped, into this and rub gently along the roots.

Apply the vaseline at night and allow it to relieve any soreness slowly. Be careful that not the slightest particle of the vaseline enters the eye, as oil irritates it.

The growth of the lashes is greatly promoted by clipping them at regular intervals for a few months. As the task requires a firm, confident touch, it is easier done by another. Only the tips should be clipped and the work done with a pair of curved scissors.

Sometimes the eyelashes, by growing inward, act as a foreign body and keep up a constant irritation of the eye. This can easily be detected by pulling down the lower lid and looking at the lashes to see the state in which they are growing. They should be in a regular line, evenly distributed, turning outward and downward with a gentle curve on the lower lid and outward and upward on the upper lid.

The longer, and thicker and silkier they are, the better. If the line is not straight and the direction of a lash here and there is faulty, try to stretch them by means of small tweezers. If there are hairs that sweep the eyeballs every time the lids cover the eyes in winking, these should be pulled out at once.

If your eyebrows are so blonde and invisible that the face is given a peculiar appearance, or that you are made conspicuous, there is no harm in resorting to the eyebrow pencil for temporary purposes. But remember, if you are blonde, you must tint your brows a light brown, not black. The black must be used only when the hair is black or dark brown. The eyebrows are in too close proximity to the eyes to use dyes and stains. A burnt clove is a good substitute for an eyebrow pencil.

The following French tonic is fine for the eyebrows: One ounce of yellow vaseline and eight drops each of oil of rosemary and oil of lavender. After washing the face smooth the brows carefully with an eyebrow brush upon which a drop of the tonic has been placed. For scanty, thin and uneven eyebrows the above tonic is recommended to be used for massage.

Apply a little to the finger tips and rub the fingers along the line of the brows. Be careful to keep in the line of the brows, as the vaseline will grow hairs and, of course, you want only a fine thin line.

One thing you may overlook, perhaps, is the importance of keeping the eyebrows free from dandruff. You cannot work any improvement in the brows until you have rid them of this condition. Dandruff is the result of uncleanness and when we wash our face we should be careful to wash the brows thoroughly as well.

If you are troubled with dandruff, twice a week scrub your eyebrows with soap and warm water and rinse them in warm, salty water. When they are dry rub in a little glycerine. In a short time you will be rewarded by the disappearance of the dandruff.

Your Boys and Girls

Never allow your young daughter to wear high heeled shoes, for they cause an abnormal tilt of the body and are harmful in every way. The proper shoe for the schoolgirl has a low heel, broad soles, roomy box and laced uppers.

If, from wearing bad shoes, the feet have lost their normal contour, the first thing to do to remedy this state of affairs is to buy shoes that follow the natural outline of the foot. All the pressure upon the inflamed joints must be relieved at once, and everything done to restore the feet to their natural condition.

It is often possible to make but little less prominent by wearing pads of absorbent cotton between the great and first toes. The muscles of the feet require proper exercise, and there is nothing better than dancing in heeled shoes, of course.

A baby's stomach cannot finish the digestion of milk in two hours. The stomach must have plenty of time to digest one feeding before a new one is given. Therefore when a baby nurses within two hours of another nursing the fresh milk and the partially digested milk are mixed, but what is of more consequence, the stomach is kept continuously at work.

The intervals agreed upon by experts on feeding is four hours. If a newly born baby is started on this basis it is simple enough. When one has started in on another habit the problem is somewhat more difficult. The feeding hours should be six, ten, two, six, and midnight. After the baby is six months old the night feeding may be shifted to ten.

Wall Street
[Associated Press Telegram]
New York, Dec. 28.—Selling of stocks was resumed at today's opening, many leading issues recording declines, ranging from fractions to a full point. Among the heaviest shivers were American Smelting and Western Union. United States Steel opened with 3,000 shares at 87 1/2, against yesterday's final quotation of 87 3/4. Goodrich and Tennessee Copper were among the few specialties to score moderate advances. Bulls were relatively dull and irregular. Secondary prices showed general improvement. St. Paul and some of the automobile declines, but recurrent heavy selling of steel down to 86 1/2 again unsettled the list, prices going lower than at the outset.

Toward midday the market dragged somewhat uncertainly, with a demand for Erie preferred shares.

Bonds were lower.

Advances in oil shares and heaviness in American sugar featured the final hour. The closing was irregular.

Further apprehension respecting foreign conditions and continuance of liquidation in Anglo-French bonds at a new minimum were among the adverse factors of today's market.

POULTRY SHOW BY NEWARK FANCIERS TO BEGIN JAN. 4TH

The Newark Fanciers Association company held a very interesting meeting at Evans' barber shop in West Church street, Tuesday evening. Everything is progressing very nicely for the poultry show to be held in the old M. E. church. Fourth and Church streets next week, Jan. 4 to 8 inclusive.

The secretary reported a number of entries already in from out of town exhibitors. This show will be judged by the score card system and the Hale explanatory score card will be used. This gives the amateur exhibitor a chance to see just where his birds are better than or not so good as the other fellows, as each section of the fowl is looked over carefully by the judge and cut according to the defects. The judge will be Mr. C. E. Cram of Carey, O., editor of the Poultry Record, and one of the best known poultry judges in America.

This show will be a benefit to everyone whether he be a poultry breeder or a consumer, as the more people who become interested in poultry raising, the greater will be the production of fresh eggs and poultry. Therefore everyone is urged to boost the show and help make it a success.

The stockholders are requested to call at the secretary's office to get their season tickets for sale.

PROF. TURNER IS SUPERINTENDENT AT BLADENSBURG

Bladensburg, Dec. 28.—Prof. J. P. Turner of Louisville, O., was last night elected superintendent of the Bladensburg public schools to succeed Supt. Norris, whose arrest recently by federal authorities, caused the school board to declare the office vacant.

Prof. Turner has been teaching in Illinois for the past fifteen years, and previously taught Ohio schools for several years. He takes charge of the local schools next Monday. Prof. Norris's family will remain here until spring.

Twenty-two members of the business men's gymnasium class of the Y. M. C. A. gathered at the association building last evening to honor Mr. W. W. Galloway, who leaves next week to take up his new duties with the Dort Motor Car Co., of Flint, Mich. The company enjoyed a splendid banquet, after which Dr. E. V. Prior, president of the Business Men's Club, very capably acted as toastmaster. The doctor introduced Mr. H. J. Alexander, who spoke in highly commendatory terms of Mr. Galloway both as a man and as a physical director. A number of the members made brief addresses expressing their appreciation of Mr. Galloway and his work here. As a token of their esteem the men presented to Mr. Galloway a beautiful watch fob with the words "Business Men's Gym Class of the Y. M. C. A., Dec. 28, 1915," engraved on it.

SCHOOL BOARD WILL ORGANIZE NEW OFFICERS

The new members of the board of education will meet with the present board on next Tuesday evening, Jan. 4, at which time the new officers will be elected. The old board will hold a joint meeting and then the new board will organize and elect.

A rumor was current this morning to the effect that W. C. Christian, W. E. Miller and J. M. Mitchell are mentioned for president, and S. W. Haight and Benjamin Montgomery for clerk. Mr. Christian Wednesday said he had heard nothing of the report and was unable to say what action the new members might take when they organize.

SAGE TEA DANDY TO DARKEN HAIR

Look years younger! Use the old-time Sage Tea and Sulphur and nobody will know.

You can turn gray, faded hair beautifully dark and lustrous almost overnight. If you get a 50-cent bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound" at any drug store, millions of bottles of this old, famous Sage Tea Recipe are sold annually, says a well-known druggist here, because it darkens the hair so naturally that no one can tell it has been applied.

Those whose hair is turning gray, becoming faded, dry, scraggly and thin have a surprise awaiting them, because after one or two applications the gray hair vanishes and your locks become luxuriantly dark and beautiful—all dandruff goes, scalp itching and falling hair stops.

This is the age of youth. Gray-haired, unattractive folks aren't wanted around, so get busy with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur tonight and you'll be delighted with your youthful appearance within a few days.

ROUTINE

OF HUNGARIAN CITY RESUMED IN TWO MONTHS AFTER BOMBARDMENT.

Magnificent Spectacle of Taking of Belgrade Staged for Civilians, Never Surpassed.

[Associated Press Correspondence] Semlin, Hungary, Dec. 13.—It is not two months since shells were falling in this old Hungarian city, but the civilian population has already settled back into the humdrum routine of normal city life. Some soldiers are still in the city, and an occasional column of prisoners is marched through the streets, but apart from this there are only some destroyed houses in the southeastern section of the town and a few houses scarred by shrapnel bullets to remind the inhabitants of the stirring scenes of the early October days.

Perhaps never in the world's history has so splendid a spectacle been staged free of charge for civilian spectators as was the taking of Belgrade. From their house-tops the inhabitants of Semlin could see every move in the desperate undertaking. The broad river lay in front of them, and on the other side perched some 200 feet above the stream, rose the Kalemegdan, the old Belgrade fortress with its white tower and its walls dating from the days when the Turks were still masters of the city.

To their left and behind them were the Austro-Hungarian artillery positions, and off to the right the German guns were hurling their projectiles against the Serbian capital. The Austro-Hungarian regiments crossed the river in plain view for the naked eye, and a halfway good glass enabled one to watch the Germans farther toward the west, making their bloody struggle to cross over the Gypsy Island. The inhabitants could see thinned battalions of Hungarians, lying with their feet still in the river on the Belgrade side of the stream, held in check by a murderous rifle and machinegun fire from the old walls of the Kalemegdan. They could see damaged pontoons full of dead men, floating down stream with the swift current. The heights southward from Belgrade were ploughed by heavy projectiles searching for the Serbian artillery positions. Serbian guns were dropping their shells into Semlin and to the rear of the city, trying vainly to find the guns that were gradually battering down the defenses of the Serbian capital. The Austrian "thirty-point-fives," the twelve-inch mortars, were throwing entire houses into the air and making great craters within the walls of the Kalemegdan.

Finally, last scene in the first act of the tragedy, the inhabitants could see the German, Austrian and Hungarian flags thrust out through the apertures in the top of the still undestroyed white tower. This was early in the morning of October 9, when the united troops reached the tower and a German soldier carved his name into a beam in the tower with the date and hour, and added the title of the old Lutheran hymn, "nun danket alle Gott!" (Now Praise Ye All Our God!).

Not until after the fighting had passed beyond the crest of the Avala mountain, southward of Belgrade, was the curtain rung down on this awful entertainment.

NEWARK WOMEN ARE INTERESTED IN THE "BABY WEEK" PLAN

"Mother's Day" and "Father's Day" have been accepted and found successful by the public in general, but it remained for the General Federation of Women's Clubs to submit for trial an observance that is of vital importance to the next generation—"Baby Week."

Mrs. Frank E. Johnson, of Jefferson Road, president of the Newark Federation of Women's Clubs, Tuesday received a large package of advertising literature for the Baby Week campaign. The Children's Bureau of the Federal Department of Labor at Washington is mailing out plans for the campaign scheduled for the week of March 4-11 of the new year.

Most of the club women of the United States are pledged to take an active part in the Nation-wide Baby Week plans and it is more than probable that the local club women also will participate. In the state of Pennsylvania alone, over 50,000 club women, trained in acting together, by the direction of their committee and club officers, will see to the campaign in their state.

"Baby Week" has been "done" before in several large cities, and the success and encouraging advance made in those localities in reducing disease and death and promoting general health is really at the bottom of the Nation-wide movement.

State Federation president, Mrs. Ronald P. Gleason, of Scranton, Pa., in sending out her message on the Baby Week campaign has not overlooked one big and vital possibility it presents. She says, "perhaps this may point the way to work with foreign-born parents which may help make the parents better Americans."

"Americanization through the babies is of course the most natural method, but to bring about Americanization of parents through the babies is a dream that many social service workers have had."

Mrs. Johnson, said Tuesday that she was not in a position to state what action the local organization would take in assisting in the campaign. The matter will be presented to the organization at their next regular meeting the later part of January by Mrs. Johnson and it is probable that Newark also will contribute its share in the way of introducing in March—"Baby Week."

TRENCHES

IN THE ARGONNES CONNECTED WITH BAGDAD BY DIRECT RAILROAD

Constructed Through French Mountains by Germans in Spite of Great Difficulties.

[Associated Press Correspondence] In The Argonnes, France, Dec. 13.—"All Aboard for Bagdad." Such was the humorous suggestion of a sprightly German officer as the tiny engine on the Argonnes railway whistled for its departure.

From the Argonnes to Bagdad is quite a stretch, even for the imagination, and yet, though seemingly impossible construction of a railroad through the French mountains, the Germans have in fact established a connection, more or less direct, but nevertheless unbroken from the trenches at the front in the west to the Asiatic city of their Turkish ally.

To build the Argonnes railway the Germans went to an abandoned French mine, and from a depth of some 800 meters resurrected miles of trackage which at no end of care and trouble has been laid on the surface, over land so swampy and difficult that the first train came to grief simply through sinking into the ground.

Thus far two main lines have been constructed—the one 9.5 centimeters wide (37 inches) and the other 1.5 meters wide (38.5 inches). On the section nearest to the actual front, benzol engines are used, because of their comparative noiselessness. Farther away from the trenches tiny steam engines draw the diminutive trains.

The engines have an approximate capacity of four cars—better perhaps, the rails and roadbed can stand that much weight without disappearing from view—and are busy every hour of the 24 in the transportation of troops, supplies, ammunition and, when possible, wounded.

Automobiles which have come to grief on the terrible roads of the Argonnes have been rebuilt, and have been equipped with 37 or 38.5 gauge wheels of steel in order that they may serve as "cars de luxe" for officers who have to travel from one point to another behind the front. The sight of officers lolling back in dismantled machines towed by diminutive locomotives invariably provokes, first merriment, and then admiration for the system that has literally made something out of nothing and has found a way to overcome the difficulties of the almost impossible Argonnes roads.

These difficulties have been enormous. Rainy weather has been the rule rather than the exception in the Argonnes for months, and it has been a gigantic task to keep the roads—rutter by supply trains and ammunition columns and artillery—from degenerating into mere bogs. The task of maintaining regular and workable communications with the extreme front has been unbelievably hard.

THE GREAT WAR

When this cruel war is over And peace in each heart shall reign What then will be the orphan's portion On that wasted battle plain?

Can the kings of warring countries To their subjects make amends For the anguish they have suffered In the loss of home and friends?

Can their money blot from memory Visions of the battle field Where their loved ones dead or dying In their own blood lie congealed?

Where the captain, yes and general Side by side with privates lie Trampled on by horse and comrade Left mangled unheeded there to die.

And their starving children crying Huddled in their mothers' arms With their homes a heap of ashes Nothing left but ruined farms.

Driven from their homes as outcasts Forced in foreign lands to dwell, Meeting with abuse and hardships Tongue or pen can never tell.

But 'tis said the recording angel Marks each sorrowful fall Will not one of those martyred soldiers Be greater than them all?

And the soldiers with their widows The orphans large and small, In the "house of many mansions" Will there not be room for all?

Mrs. P. L. Courson Granville, O. Dec. 28, 1915.

Keep Uric Acid Out of Joints

Tells Rheumatism Sufferers to Eat Less Meat and Take Salts.

Rheumatism is easier to avoid than to cure, states a well-known authority. We are advised to dress warmly, keep the feet dry; avoid exposure, eat less meat, but drink plenty of good water.

Rheumatism is a direct result of eating too much meat and other rich foods that produce uric acid which is absorbed into the blood. It is the function of the kidneys to filter this acid from the blood and cast it out in the urine, the pores of the skin are also a means of freeing the blood of this impurity. In damp and chilly cold weather the skin pores are closed thus forcing the kidneys to do double work, they become weak and sluggish and fail to eliminate the uric acid which keeps accumulating and circulating through the system, eventually settling in the joints and muscles causing stiffness, soreness and pain called rheumatism.

At the first twinge of rheumatism get from any pharmacy about four ounces of Jad Salts, put a tablespoonful in a glass of water and drink before breakfast each morning for a week. This is said to eliminate uric acid by stimulating the kidneys to normal action, thus ridding the blood of these impurities.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, harmless and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia and is used with excellent results by thousands of folks who are subject to rheumatism. Here you have a pleasant, effervescent lithia-water drink which helps overcome uric acid and is beneficial to your kidneys as well.

NO STRINGS TO MRS. E. A. IRWIN'S ENDORSEMENT

First Thought Nerv-Worth a Joke. Now She Says "Come and See Me About It."

This resident of 211 Buena Vista street has written to Druggist T. J. Evans one of the most interesting and convincing bits of Nerv-Worth praise he has yet received. Read it.

When I first tried Nerv-Worth I thought it a joke, and had no faith whatever in it, but much to my surprise I am feeling fine. My nervous trouble was loss of sleep at night and I had falling spells—would drop right down on the floor.

"My appetite is much better and improving right along and am stronger in all ways. Can get about the house much better than I have for years. Am 72 years old and can heartily recommend Nerv-Worth to aged persons. I invite you to call and see me.

(Signed) "MRS. E. A. IRWIN." Reader of these Nerv-Worth endorsements, have you noted how many of them come from the old folks? If so, you must be ready to accept the Nerv-Worth claim that it has no equal as an upbuilder of the aged. Sold at the Evans drug store. Guaranteed. (Adv.)

DELEGATES SAY T. R. REASONING IS FALLACIOUS

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Washington, Dec. 29.—After a paper by Colonel Theodore Roosevelt advocating a vigorous policy of national defense had been before the American Sociological Society here today; several of the delegates in discussion pronounced the colonel's theory fallacious.

The sociological society is one of many scientific meetings here at the same time at the Pan-American congress and has devoted its sessions largely to discussion of the economic effect of war.

Professor Edward A. Ross of Wisconsin read Colonel Roosevelt's paper, and Prof. John Mez of the American Peace Society attacked the colonel's argument.

"There is a fallacy in Col. Roosevelt's theory," said he, "which is common to all militarists and those who think it necessary to maintain armaments for peace purposes. The general idea that Belgium, Persia, and Poland and other countries have suffered is no reason to believe the instruments which have caused that suffering should be increased."

Professor Hayes of the University of Illinois said he agreed with Col. Roosevelt up to a certain point. "Roosevelt's citations from history," said he, "have overlooked the great element of change. All great steps in advance have been called impracticable up to the moment of accomplishment."

STORM IN INDIANA BLOCKADES TRAFFIC IN MANY PLACES.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Indianapolis, Dec. 29.—The rain, sleet and snow storm of early today tested man's ingenuity to keep things moving. Not only telephone and telegraph wires were snapped but poles were broken off by the weight of the ice.

Steam and electric railway lines were blocked in many places and all trains were running far behind their schedules. All means of communication with Richmond were interrupted today and it was understood that four Pennsylvania passenger trains were being held there.

A number of street car lines here were blocked completely during the rush hours and only an irregular service was maintained on the others.

It was the first serious tie-up of the season. Charles Coon, at Logansport, and Frank Bottinger at Warsaw, probably will die from exposure.

The Degradation of Matter.
If we examine the life history of any substance with sufficient knowledge and sufficient care, says the Engineer, we shall find that nature provides means and forces that little by little are turning that substance into dust. The manipulations of man greatly assist in the process. But nature itself is always active in it and even without man's aid is quite competent to achieve the task. At times we strive to hinder the process, as, for example, when we apply paint to iron-work in order to prevent it from rusting. But we can hinder it only for a time, and even then we merely check the degradation of one substance by degrading another. Thus we have constantly to renew the paint on our iron-work. The former coats disappear wholly or in part, and the material of which they were composed has turned to dust. We may accordingly look forward to a time when all matter will be uniformly distributed as dust throughout space, a condition that, according to the nebular hypothesis, actually did prevail at one time, before the universe, as we know it, was formed.

Uncle Sam's Big Checks.

When the government pays a claim or debt it is done by a treasury warrant, signed by the secretary of the treasury. In May, 1904, the secretary signed a warrant for $40,000,000, which was delivered to J. P. Morgan & Co. of New York as disbursing agents of this government on account of the Panama canal purchase. This was the largest warrant ever issued. The largest sum previously covered by a single government warrant was for $7,200,000, paid to Russia in 1898 on account of the Alaskan purchase. The next largest sum was $3,500,000, paid in 1876 to the British government on account of the Halifax award under the treaty of Washington for infringement of fishing rights in Nova Scotia waters. In 1899 this government paid Spain, through the French ambassador, $20,000,000 for the Philippine Islands, but this sum was represented by four warrants of $5,000,000 each.—Philadelphia Press.

Broadway Noon Idyl.

Every weekday at noon the chimes of Grace church, in New York, send down into the clatter of Broadway the strains of old familiar hymns. The other day the chimes had just finished Pleyel's hymn. They began a new melody, which in the midst of the city's roar was not at first distinguishable. Then the tangle of notes unwound itself and through the noises of the street sounded the sweet notes of "Just as I Am, Without One Plea."

Car wheels clanked, car brakes shrieked, iron shod horse hoofs smote the stones of the street, motor horns blew raucously; there was the sound of a myriad human feet and of many human voices, and through it all—"Just as I Am, Without One Plea."

Pedestrians took up the theme and hummed it absently. Old scenes were brought back, old faiths strengthened, old blessings remembered.—Christian Herald.

First English Book on Sport.

The first book on sport ever printed in the English language was a rime treatise called the "Boke of St. Albans," its author being a woman, Dame Juliana Berners. Its second edition was printed by Wynkyn de Worde in 1496. A descendant of her family, Lord Berners, was the translator of Froissart's "Chronicles." It is true that old manuscripts existed, such as the "Venerie de Twecy" of the time of Edward II, but it was Dame Juliana who was the real ancestress of sporting literature in England, for she also composed an essay on hawk-hunting and another on "Fishing With an Angle," the last being of such excellence that Isaac Walton himself did take a hint from its pages.

Parasol Monoplanes.

The "parasol plane" is really a biplane with the lower pair of wings removed, the engine, pilot and observer all sitting under the upper plane and thus giving rise to the nickname of "parasol." This type of monoplane is chiefly used for directing the fire of the guns. In an ordinary monoplane it is difficult for the observer to see below him.—Pearson's Weekly.

Fighting Fishes of Siam.

The Siamese devote great care to the cultivation of their famous fighting fishes, known as plakut. The interest in the fights, on which the spectators stake large sums of money, is so great that the license to hold them brings a large annual revenue to the king of Siam.—Westminster Gazette.

Excusable.

"Miss Short says she's only thirty, and I'd swear she's five and thirty if she's a day."

"Well, you see, I've heard she was a rather backward child, dear, and didn't learn to count till she was five."—Exchange.

Remedy your deficiencies and your merits will take care of themselves.—Bulwer.

CONSCRIPTION DISCUSSED BY LABOR PARTY

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
London, Dec. 29.—A conference of representatives of the labor party is being arranged to consider the decision of the cabinet in regard to compulsory military service. The question is being canvassed eagerly at trade union centers. Advocates and opponents of conscription are equally emphatic. Many members of the labor party are ready to support compulsory service once they are satisfied that it is necessary, and are assured it will be applied impartially. Some are still insisting on a further opportunity for unmarried men to volunteer but it is believed the cabinet has decided against further delay. In view of the expected early activities in the field recruits are needed to take the places of the men now waiting in the home camps in readiness to fill vacancies at the front.

A meeting of the Amalgamated Society of Engineers will be held tomorrow to consider the plan of David Lloyd-George for relaxation of trades union rules so as to increase the number of men performing certain classes of work. The engineers will discuss Mr. Lloyd-George's bill amending the munitions act, which will come before parliament when it reassembles.

DEVELOPMENTS ARE EXPECTED IN GAS CASE

"There is nothing I can say just now," said Solicitor Ralph Norpell today in answer to a question as to the status of the case in which the city is seeking to prevent the collection of the new gas rate put into operation several years ago. Solicitor Norpell and other attorneys interested in the case complied with the formalities necessary to take the case into the United States Supreme court.

Mr. Norpell stated that he expected to be able to make an announcement within a few days. The case was one of the matters which took him east ten days ago.

READY FOR NEW YEAR.

All city officials are busy these days in closing records for the end of the year and preparing data for estimates for the new year. Soon after the new council organizes the finance committee will be called upon to make appropriations for the coming year.

Story of Immortal Hymn.

(Mrs. Miskovsky in The Advance.) It was Christmas of the year of 1818. On the afternoon before Christmas eve the vicar of Oberdorf, Joseph Mohr, came to the teacher of Arnsdorf, Franz Gruber, bringing a sheet of paper with him, saying: "Friend, could you set to music this little poem which I have written? You understand that sort of thing, and tonight we can have it sung at the Christmas mass. It is real simple and childlike, but it is well meant."

Gruber, whose duty it was to provide church music in Oberdorf on holidays, did not need much persuasion, and, taking the sheet of paper with the poem on it, sat down to the piano and in an incredibly short time had struck off the tune. On Christmas eve the church at Oberdorf shone in the brilliant light of many candles and the priest stood at the altar, clouds of incense ascended and the soft tones of the organ resounded. But hark! Suddenly a hymn arises, such as only the angels in heaven might sing to the little Christ-child. All hold their breath. No one wishes to miss a single note of the wonderful melody. From the choir loft descend its majestic tones:

Silent night! Holy night!
All is calm, all is bright.
Round yon virgin mother and child,
Holy Infant tender and mild,
Sleep in heavenly peace.

Silent night! Holy night!
Shepherds wake, touched with fright,
Glorious stream from heaven afar;
Heavenly hosts sing Hallelujah,
Christ the Savior is born.

The mass was over. The faithful were returning home with divine joy in their hearts; but their lips kept repeating the words, "Silent night! Holy night!"

Rapidly the hymn spread not only over the Salzburg country but also throughout neighboring Bavaria and Austria. The organ builder, Mauracher, who himself heard it sung by Mohr, brought it to the Tyrol. In the year 1833 the Zillertal singers came to Leipzig at the Christmas mass. In Leipzig it was finally published and thus became known throughout the world. At the present day it is a popular folk song and is gladly sung by all Christians of the German tongue who celebrate the advent of the heavenly Child. Even beyond the seas, in the new world, it is heard, and there exerts a powerful influence over German sentiment. For a long time nothing was known of the origin of the hymn. Both writer and composer were far too modest to publish broadcast the authorship of the hymn and had informed only a small circle of it. Many therefore supposed that Mozart or Haydn had composed the magnificent hymn. Only in recent times have its true originators become widely known, and they deserve that their names should not be forgotten.

Joseph Mohr was the child of poor parents and was born in Salzburg in 1792. Having a beautiful voice, he became one of the singers in the cathedral choir. Later on he took orders as the Catholic church, and died as vicar of Wagram, 1843.

Franz Gruber was born in upper Austria, 1787, as son of a poor weaver. In Burghausen he received his musical education. In 1806 he came to Arnsdorf, and died as choir leader of the parish church of Hallein in 1863.

Both men have long lain at rest. Yet unceasingly does this immortal hymn swell in countless human hearts:

Sleep in heavenly peace.

UTICA

For the week preceding Christmas our village enjoyed something new in its history—the presence of a community Xmas tree. The tree was placed in the Presbyterian church yard and was lighted each evening with electricity. Each evening of the week also a 45-minute program was given consisting of songs by the school children and recitations, closing with a short address by one of the local ministers. Friday evening the series culminated in the appearance of old Santa himself who distributed gifts to about 800 children.

The public schools closed Thursday evening for a two-weeks vacation. The teachers scattered to their various homes: Mr. and Mrs. Burgett to Columbus; Mr. Lake to Tringway; Miss Trump to Circleville; Miss Jones to Granville; Mr. Teagarden to Newark and Miss Deck to Ottawa.

Pupils who have been attending college at various places and who are spending the vacation here are as follows: Ralph Riley, Geo. ### CONSUL PRO-GERMAN, ENGLISH COMPLAIN

Julius G. Lay.

That Julius G. Lay, American consul-general at Berlin, is decidedly pro-German, is the unofficial complaint of the British. There are rumors in London to the effect that he was so pro-German in early life that he tried to enlist in the German army and was rejected on account of ill health. Mrs. Lay recently visited London and was denounced in private as a "German agent abusing hospitality under the protection of the American diplomatic corps."

SUMMIT STATION

Rev. R. S. Bailey, the Methodist minister at this place, was so unfortunate as to have his new Ford automobile stolen some time ago when his son and daughter were in Columbus attending a moving picture show. Rev. Mr. Bailey never heard from his machine since it was stolen. The machine was practically new, having used it but four times. Rev. Mr. Bailey is a member of the F. and A. M. and O. O. F. orders, and with the help of church members, Grangers and others concluded last week to surprise Mr. Bailey, and a subscription was started at once. In a short time enough money was subscribed to buy Mr. Bailey a new Ford machine. Christmas morning a good Santa Claus drove a new Ford in front of Mr. Bailey's residence in Reynoldsburg, and after telling him the machine was his own and after handing him a paper the Santa Claus disappeared to parts unknown. Rev. Mr. Bailey and family are very grateful to their benefactors.
